Foreign Ministers Assemble Today On Peace Treaties

Will Begin Negotiation Of Peace Treaties For Former Nazi Satellites

ALSO TO BEGIN GERMAN TREATY

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The council of foreign ministers was to meet at 4 p. m. today for the first time on American soil to negotiate peace treaties for the former Nazi satellite governments.

The "Big Four"—U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, Russian Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and Maurice Couve de Murville, deputy foreign minister of France—faced two main problems. First was completion of peace treaties with Italy, Romania, Hungary, Bulgaria and Finland.

Start German Treaty
Second was preparation of a joint program leading to an ultimate peace treaty with Germany. An army transport landed Secretary of State Byrnes last of the "Big Four" to arrive at LaGuardia field at 3:47 p. m. yesterday and he immediately began arranging unofficial conferences with his colleagues.

It was understood Byrnes conferred with Bevin and de Murville but was unsuccessful in contacting Molotov who had attended a memorial for the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt at Hyde Park.

Byrnes, Bevin, and de Murville all have suites in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel where the conferences will be staged amid luxurious surroundings. Molotov has a suite reserved at the hotel but so far has remained at his Glen Cove, L. I. residence.

Peace Pacts By November 20
A tentative time-table devised by the four foreign ministers calls for completion of the peace pacts for the satellite nations by November 20. There are many points of disagreement, however, chief of which is Russia's insistence that the final

Sunday recorded probably an all-time record in this area for mid-summer heat on November 3. It was so remarkable warm that many persons were running around coatless, and a large number of persons occupied the downtown park benches like mid-summer.

Down in Washington, Pa., the Communist Chest drive has blown the top off its goal. $80,000.00 was the goal set for the drive, topping the $50,000.00 mark, has moved up off the board way over the top of the red feather, according to the barometer outside the county court house there.

Thermometer on the public square, in the shape of a feather with red indicating the progress of the campaign, indicates that the goal is nearly reached, the thermometer showing nearly 95 per cent success in the campaign. Workers are making the final effort to put the campaign over the top at the report meeting on Friday.

Tomorrow is election day. Indications are for a heavy vote in the city and county. Addition of the vote of daylight savings time in addition to spirited contests for state and national offices has spurred interest. Wartime voting lethargy is expected to disappear at the election tomorrow.

It was reported to Pa. News by one of the Mahoningtown bus operators that a beautiful butterfly was noted flitting around the Cedar street area over the weekend. The warm weather evidently had the butterfly thinking it was spring already. Many porch sitters were noted throughout the city on Sunday.

Reminder On Election Board Reports Tuesday

Tomorrow is election day. The News is reminding election boards in the city and county precincts of the request that returns from the precincts be reported to this newspaper as soon as possible after the count is made Tuesday night. The News telephones are No. 4000. Please call or send returns to The News as early as possible Tuesday night. Figures on all contests and on daylight savings time vote are desired. Thanks.

U.S. And China Sign New Five-Year Pact

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—(INS)—The United States and China today signed a five-year pact of friendship, commerce and navigation which the state department hailed as a model in such agreements.

The treaty, negotiated in Nanking, was signed in that capital today by American Ambassador John Leighton Stuart and Chinese Foreign Minister Dr. Wang Shih-Chieh. It will go into force only after ratification by the United States senate and the Chinese government.

The pact contains the customary "most favored nations" clauses and many new provisions as well. The state department reportedly plans similarly to modernize many existing agreements.

Observers believed that the agreement would be welcomed by many business firms who operated in

Strike Trends In Coal Fields Being Watched
WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Federal officials kept a close watch on strike trends in the coal fields today as they resumed contract discussions with the United Mine Workers Union.

The conferences between Coal Mines Administrator N. H. Colleson and the union negotiators were to get under way after a weekend recess.

Some 10,000 miners were off the job in West Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee Saturday and solid fuels administration experts scanned incoming reports today to determine whether the strike idleness was growing or diminishing.

Union officials asserted that they were doing all they could to prevent the wildest walk-outs from spreading.

Bituminous industry representatives contended, however, that the strike may be the beginning of a large-scale shut-down to support John L. Lewis at the bargaining table.

The situation was confused by idleness in some areas owing to a shortage of coal cars, absenteeism prompted by the opening of the small game hunting season, and prospects of further production losses tomorrow when the miners go to the election polls.

One Is Dead In Fire In Student Boarding House
BERKELEY, Cal., Nov. 4.—(INS)—One youth, believed to be a University of California student was burned to death and eight students and a fine department captain were injured today in a fire that gutted a student boarding house in Fire-University-Sorority row.

The body of the youth, burned so badly immediate identification was impossible, was found in the ruins of a shower bath several hours after the fire was controlled.

Five Of Family Killed In Wreck
EUGENE, Ore., Nov. 4.—(INS)—An auto crash which claimed six lives Sunday left only one member of the Archie Shelton family of Springfield, Ore., unharmed today. Killed instantly were Mrs. Shelton, 40; Homer Shelton, 20; Harvey, 14; Frederick, 12; and Francis P. Davis, 21, the driver.

Archie Shelton, the father, died of injuries at a hospital where a fourth son, Howard, 16, was also brought with serious injuries. The only one of the family of seven who escaped injury was a small daughter, who was visiting at Cottage Grove.

STORE DRIVERS RETURN TO WORK IN NEW YORK CITY
NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Twenty-five hundred members of Local 804, International Brotherhood of Teamsters (AFL), voted unanimously to return to work today under terms of an agreement reached by their representatives and the United Parcel Service.

The 51-day old strike had tied up deliveries of 375 department and specialty stores.

Heavy Snow In Denver Cause Of Six Deaths
DENVER, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Six deaths were recorded in Denver today as a result of a 22-inch snowfall which virtually paralyzed traffic in the city.

The snow was the accumulation of two-day fall.

Harrisburg, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Republicans and Democrats looked to the end of the election rainbow today to see whether their candidates would find the pot of gold.

Both camps were confident of victory on the eve of the balloting with Democrats claiming victory by margins running up to half a million votes and the Republicans expecting about a 400,000 plurality after the ballot boxes were counted in 8661 precincts.

The polls will open at 7 a. m. and close at 8 p. m.

Pennsylvanians will elect a United States senator, a governor, a lieutenant governor, a secretary of internal affairs, 208 state representatives, 25 state senators and 33 congressmen.

Ballot Cutting Not Indicated
There was no indication that many voters would cut their ballots leading chiefs of both major parties to believe that the party carrying the U. S. senatorship would win down the line victories in the statewide contests. The results of assemblymen and congressmen will reflect local issues, registration and interest.

Four parties will place candidates on the ballot tomorrow. They were the Republican, Democratic, Prohibition and Socialist-Labor.

Past experience has shown that the Prohibition and Socialist-Labor candidates will garner only a fraction of the total vote cast.

The State Elections Bureau has reported unofficially that 2,731,538 Republicans, 1,251,824 Democrats, 47,781 non-partisans and 6242 members of minor parties had met voting requirements. The GOP edge was 479,714 potential votes but only about two-thirds of the electorate was expected to go to the polls.

Roy Rogers' Wife Taken By Death
HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Cowboy star Roy Rogers, proud a few days ago over the birth of his first son, was bowed in grief today over the death of his wife, Mrs. Arlene Rogers.

Mrs. Rogers in the hospital recovering from a cesarean operation, died yesterday of a blood clot, a complication that developed suddenly a week after the baby's arrival.

Rogers had talked to her earlier in the day and had found her in excellent spirits, apparently well on the way to recovery.

Mrs. Rogers was 32 and had been married to the actor for 19 years. Besides the baby boy, there are two other children in the Rogers family, Linda Lou, 3, and Cheryl, 7. The latter was adopted.

Fifteen Women Seek Election To Congress

By MARTHA KEARNEY
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Election to the house or back to the home? Fifteen women seeking seats in the House of Representatives are asking that question today, on the eve of elections. The answer, for at least half of them, seems to be: "Back to the home."

Political handicappers believe that four of the 15 women running are certain to make the grade; that one woman candidate is favored, and that two are running neck and neck with their opponents.

Eight Have No Chance
Eight of the lady politicians are conceded no chance at all of bringing the woman's touch to the marble halls of congress.

A 16th woman candidate, Margaret Chase Smith (R., Maine, also running.

Large Vote In County Tuesday Now Indicated
Eleventh Hour Addition Of Daylight Time Vote Spurs More Interest

With forecasts seeming to indicate that the vote on Tuesday will result in a Republican majority in Lawrence county, voters of New Castle and Lawrence county are preparing to go to the polls in numbers that will result in a heavy vote, most observers believe. With 41,000 eligible to vote on Tuesday, a much larger proportion will turn out than has been evident during the election lethargy of the war years in Lawrence county, it is indicated.

The campaign here has been one marked by less heat than is usual in Lawrence county elections. Meetings have been few, but despite this the interest has seemed to be high.

Important Offices
Officers to be voted for include that of United States Senator. The others to be filled are: governor and lieutenant-governor, secretary of internal affairs, member of congress and two members of the Pennsylvania General Assembly. No state senator will be elected this year the incumbent being a hold-over.

One issue which was projected into the campaign a week ago is that of daylight saving time. Considerable support for the anti-daylight saving side of the question is

Nine Are Dead In Auto Crash
Two Car Collision In Wilkes-Barre Takes Heavy Toll Of Life

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Nov. 4.—(INS)—The two-car collision near Dallas which claimed the lives of nine persons including a prematurely born baby was believed to be one of the most tragic accidents in the state's motoring history.

Seven adults and the baby perished in the fire which engulfed the two demolished vehicles while the infant's father, Chester Moyer, of Kingston, 21-year-old Marine veteran who was thrown clear of the tangled wreckage died in New York Memorial hospital about 12 hours after the crash. He never regained consciousness.

The accident occurred on the Harvey Lake highway 10 miles west of Wilkes-Barre early Sunday morning.

Premier Enver Hoxha cabled UNRRA for relief supplies.

BODY OF WOMAN FOUND IN FIELD
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Police were searching today for a clue that might lead to the solution of the mysterious death of a 29-year-old Pittsburgh woman whose body was found in a field.

The victim was identified by police as Mrs. Mary Holt and said the body was discovered by two small boys, who were playing in the field.

Police reported they were holding the victim's husband, Judge Holt and his brother, R. D. Holt, for questioning.

The coroner announced that Mrs. Holt was strangled to death.

Survey Forecasts Big Republican Gains On Tuesday

Indicate Sizeable Working Majority For G. O. P. In House After Election

SENATE MAY ALSO GO REPUBLICAN
By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—The American people apparently are prepared today to sign an eviction notice Tuesday ousting the Democratic New Deal from control of both house and senate in the new congress.

A nation-wide survey by International News Service shows the house will go Republican by a sizeable working majority in tomorrow's national elections. It further indicates a Republican senate, possibly by a 49 to 47 margin, but some contests are so close the Democrats could retain control of it by the same slender majority.

May Be Party Tie In Senate
Indeed, the elections may bring about a party tie in the senate.

The New Deal, in any event, will be dead on Capitol Hill because southern senators would join the GOP to kill it in the senate.

The Republicans appear to be capturing 45 house seats now held by Democrats while losing one Republican district. This would give the GOP a clear working majority of 37 votes in the lower branch of congress.

There are numerous signs that a tremendous Republican landslide may be in the wind. In such an event, the Republicans might gain up to 40 more seats from the Democrats.

Reprinted Ballots Already Delivered
Printers Work On 24-Hour Day Basis To Complete Reprinting Ballots For Election

All ballots necessary to the election on Tuesday, November 5, have been printed and delivered to the Board of Elections, thus assuring the electorate of no delay due to the recent order of court which called for the reprinting of the ballots.

The order came following a dispute over the inclusion of the address and incumbency of Congressman Louis E. Graham, Theodore Gunnert protesting that this was a violation of the election code.

Justice W. Walter Brannan agreed with the position, and the ballots were ordered reprinted.

Albert Street, of Miller, Pyle and Street, the concern printing the ballots put his force to work on a twenty-four hour schedule and by so doing was able to get the ballots reprinted in time.

The cost for the reprinting is $1150.

Commission New Aircraft Carrier
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4.—(INS)—The navy's newest aircraft carrier, the 27,000-ton U.S.S. Valley Forge, was dedicated today to the cause of peace.

A commissioning ceremony at the Philadelphia naval base, Admiral Dewitt C. Ramsey, vice chief of Naval Operations, declared.

It will carry the hopes of our nation for a peaceful world. The sea and air power which we find combined in this ship constitute one of the most potent elements of national strength.

The U.S.S. Valley Forge was financed by $76 million worth of E bonds purchased during a drive in Philadelphia last year.

And will it rain or will it snow or will shine or rain? These questions plague the candidate again and yet again. His nerves are on the ragged edge, his temper slightly frayed, has he done everything he should, has any trick misplayed, and did he see the proper folks and sing his well-known song, and on the morrow when they vote will folks be mostly wrong? And so he sits in retrospect and views the campaign through, and wonders what the morrow brings—the weather's sixty-two.

St. Vitus Church Organ Dedicated

Musical Program Featured
At Blessing-Dedication
Sunday Evening

A great occasion in the history of St. Vitus church took place, Sunday evening, when the blessing and dedication of the new organ was held before a capacity crowd which filled the entire church.

Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita, pastor of the church, and his assistant pastors, Rev. Fr. Albert M. Inteso, and Rev. Fr. Francis Boyle, assisted him in the blessing ceremony of the church, and also taking part were the altar boys of the church.

Immediately following the blessing, the church resounded with the organ's music, with the Fanfare in D, by J. Lemmons, as the first selection. The choirmaster and organist for the occasion was Frances V. Schmidt, of the Church of Assumption, Bellevue, Pa.

Ave Verum, by H. Tappert was the first selection to be sung by the Men's choir, of the church of the Assumption, their voices blending beautifully with the organ music. They also sang, O Bone Jesu, and Ave Maria, by Witt, alternating with organ selections, of the Nuptial March Opus No. 102, by Oliver King, and Two Soft Voluntaries, of E. Bantist.

Sermon of Evening
Rev. Fr. Albert M. Inteso, assistant pastor gave the sermon of the evening. He traced the history of the music played in the church in the olden days, and compared it with the selections of today. No secular music is played whatsoever, in the Catholic church today, due to the fact that it is out of place during church services. Father Inteso briefly told of the various chants used in the church ceremonies before, and commented upon the chants of the liturgy of today.

In closing, gratification was expressed in behalf of the other priests and the congregation, to Mr. and Mrs. Alfonso Scarazzo, well-known members of the parish—who have given this instrument to the church. Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

SEEK BETTER HEALTH THE VOLUNTARY AMERICAN WAY

BEFORE... WORLD WAR II

WAGES	AUTOMOBILES	HEALTH
Average American Wage: $12.00 per week. The English: $10.00 per week.	Americans owned one car to each 4 1/2 people.	The United States level of HEALTH was highest...
Three times German wage.	England owned one car to each 20 people.	The United States death rate was lowest...
Five times Italian wage.	Russia owned one car to each 479 people.	OF ANY COUNTRY TRY OUR WAY!
130 million Americans received more wages per year than the 150 millions who lived in Europe.	Germany owned one car to every 49 people.

What's the SCORE?

1. Best Quality of Medical Service on Earth!
2. American People Make Highest Wages on Earth!
3. American Standard of Living Highest on Earth!

Add up the score! There is no doubt that we are VASTLY better off than citizens of governments that are wholly or partially socialist.

American doctors, under our unhampered democratic system, have made more progress in raising the level of health and disease prevention, than in all the centuries before. There are vast fields of scientific and curative medicine yet to be conquered. Free men and women are working in laboratories, hospitals, medical schools and clinics all over America, on these problems.

Paid medical care and hospitalization are available now to 100,000,000 Americans, and being extended to more and more every day—the VOLUNTARY American way. Ask your doctor about it.

ings of the twenty-one nation peace conference in Paris are by no means conclusive.

Other problems facing the foreign ministers include:

1—The issue of Trieste, as a free territory, its form of government, and the frontiers delineating the area from Italy.

2—Reparations.

3—Free international navigation on the Danube.

4—Disarmament and administration of the former Italian colonies.

Statements by the delegates upon their arrival in New York seem to indicate that the acrimonious debates highlighting the previous conference, would not delay shaping the treaty.

Molotov had said "The Russian delegation will work together and cooperate as this is in our interest."

De Murville asserted he had "no reason to hope that the work would be finished as scheduled, by Nov. 20th."

Preliminary Discussions
New York, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Preliminary discussions looking toward streamlining peace treaty action by the big four council of foreign ministers got under way at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel today.

In line with a previously adopted schedule, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin called upon United States Secretary of State James F. Byrnes in the latter's seventh floor suite at 10:30 a. m. EST.

He was expected to be followed by Deputy Foreign Minister Count de Murville of France, who is representing the Republic in the absence of Premier-President George Bidault, compelled to remain at home until a popular decision is reached in an impending election.

Byrnes also is known to be engaged in a private, bilateral discussion with Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov before the council itself meets at 4 p. m. in the large luxurious private suite of Lucius D. Barker, chairman of the board, on the 37th floor of the tower.

The American secretary and his British counterpart met without advisers or assistants.

Object of the meeting was an informal exchange of conversations to give whatever assurance obtainable that when the big four gather in formal session this afternoon they will be in a position to deal with the first items on the agenda with least possible loss of time.

SURVEY FORECASTS BIG REPUBLICAN GAINS ON TUESDAY

crats and another from an Independent. However, Democrats are leading in most of these districts and many are reasonably expected to win. A landslide could give the GOP a majority of up to 119 seats in the house.

Not Quite So Clear
The picture is not quite so clear in the senate contests. The Republicans must gain 10 seats to control the senate. They seem assured of eight of these seats for a certainty with two more as probable. The certain gains appear to be in Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Ohio, Missouri, Idaho and Wisconsin. GOP candidates are leading also in Washington and Montana.

Republican senate candidates also are slugging it out and neck battles with Democrats in West Virginia, Nevada, New Mexico and Wyoming. Both sides claim victories in each of these states. The Republicans also are giving the Democrats grave last-minute concern in Maryland and, of all places, Rhode Island, where a major upset is forecast by some GOP leaders.

To Elect 33 Governors
There are 33 gubernatorial races across the nation. These governorships are now held by 16 Democrats and 17 Republicans. There are 14 holdover governors, nine Democrats and five Republicans. Maine elected a Republican governor in September.

In this year's contests, the Democrats have seven gubernatorial races clinched and the Republicans have 13, including Michigan, New York and Pennsylvania. In the reported heavy favorites in Colorado, Connecticut, Idaho, Kansas, New Jersey and Ohio. Democrats are reported ahead but in trouble in Maryland and Massachusetts. Democrats also lead in Nevada, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Rhode Island and Wyoming.

G. O. P. Gains
The INS survey, in showing certain election of a Republican house, gives the GOP the following gains: Six to four in Connecticut, one in Delaware, one possibly in Idaho, three to six in Illinois, one loss and one possible gain in Indiana, three to five in Kentucky, one to three in Maryland, two to four in Michigan, two in Minnesota, three to five in Missouri, one possibly in Nevada, two possibly in New Mexico, six to ten in New York, three or four in Ohio, three possibly in Oklahoma, one possibly in Rhode Island, six to 11 in Pennsylvania, two or three in Washington, two to four in West Virginia and two or three in Wisconsin.

Witnesses traveling close to one vehicle involved in the crash, said the car carrying the two persons was struck when the other car swerved across the highway.

Other victims were Sgt. Gilbert Vankirk, 23, of Forty Port, believed to be the driver of the one car; George Jones, 21, of Kingston, a veteran on terminal leave; Francis Lavelle, 17, of Scranton; Francis Lavelle, 18, of Kingston, her cousin; Glen Hilbert, 21, of Beaumont, driver of the other car, and Richard Demmon, 19, of Alderson, R. The witnesses, Clyde Campbell, 19, of Leiman township, and Ralph Hoy, of Dalton, said Hilbert's car recoiled so violently from the impact that their automobile was unable to avoid hitting the wreckage.

STRIP AUTO IN FREW MILL ROAD

City police are searching for a bold thief who has only stolen the parked auto of Steve Danish, Winslow avenue, November 1, but stripped it of two wheels, tubes and a radio in the Frew Mill road, where it was found.

The car had been parked in a parking lot.

A man whom attaches believed to be Mr. Danish called for the car, got it and drove it away. Later it was found stripped, police reported.

Man Raises His Arms Above His Head for First Time in Years

A few days ago a man said the rheumatic pains in his arms and shoulders disappeared and now he can raise his arms above his head for the first time in years. He said the pains he used to have from this rheumatism were simply awful. Sometimes his knees and hips were stiff and sore, but the pains were mostly in the back of his neck and across his shoulders. Now, however, his suffering is entirely gone and he says the change is due to taking RHU-AID. "Oh! What relief!" states this man. "Why don't other rheumatic sufferers get RHU-AID?"

RHU-AID is a new formula. It contains Three Great Ingredients, so it is almost like taking three medicines in one. It goes right to the source of rheumatic aches and pains. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get RHU-AID. Sold by All Drug Stores here in New Castle.

FIFTEEN WOMEN SEEK ELECTION TO CONGRESS

ready has received her answer by way of a September election which returned her to her congressional seat.

The four women who are rated as sure winners are veteran Congresswomen Mary Norton (D) N. J., Edith Nourse Rogers (R) Mass., and Frances P. Bolton (R) Ohio, as well as Political Tyro Mrs. George St. George of Tuxedo, N. Y., who is a Republican.

The experts refuse to commit themselves on the outcome of the contests involving Reps. Helen Gahagan Douglas (D) Calif., and Chase G. Wadsworth (D) Conn. because they believe that the result is anybody's guess.

Favored To Win
Mrs. Georgia Link of New Mexico, a Democrat, is favored in her campaign to be elected congresswoman, large from that state although she is not regarded as an absolute cinch to win.

The eight women for whose chances handicappers would not give a plugged Wilkie button are: Rep. Helen Douglas Mankin (D) Ill., Rep. Helen Douglas Mankin (D) Ill., fifth Georgia district, Margaret Affinis (D), second Indiana district, Olive Goldman (D) 19th Illinois district, Josephine Mayes (D), second New York district, Martha Sharp (D), 14th Massachusetts district, Mrs. William Barry (D), fourth New York district, and Mrs. Fred Watson (R), third Oklahoma district.

During the last congress there were four Democratic and four Republican congresswomen until the dying days of the session.

Clare Booth Luce Withdraws
Reps. Helen Douglas Mankin (D) Ga., and Jane Pratt (D) N. C. arrived before the session adjourned to fill unexpired terms and tip the balance, making six Democratic and four Republican congresswomen.

Three of the lady legislators withdrew from public life at the end of the 80th congress. They were Reps. Clare Booth Luce (R) Conn., Jessie Sumner (R) Ill., and Jane Pratt (D) N. C.

Political pundits point out that 11 of the 15 women running for office in tomorrow's elections are Democrats. They say that many of the girls have to expect to be lost in the Republican shuffle.

It was a tough fight, mom, and you can't win 'em all.

Wind is said to be far more important than temperature to the cooling of the body.

Arrest Seven For Drunken Driving During October

Mayor John F. Haven's report of October police activities contained a report that seven persons were arrested by city officers for driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol. All were accused of the violation in formal charges made in aldermanic offices and they were held for court.

GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY TODAY

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Duncan of R. D. 1, Ellwood City, who today celebrate their golden wedding anniversary, on Sunday afternoon and evening held open house in celebration of the occasion.

Many friends and relatives from New Castle and Ellwood City called during the day to extend congratulations.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Frank Dietrich, a daughter, and Mrs. Theodore A. Duncan, of Ellwood City, a daughter-in-law.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan will leave by the middle of the month for Laurel Hills, Fla., where another daughter, Mrs. Frank Plympton resides. They plan to spend the winter in Laurel Hills.

The couple have two sons, George W. Duncan, of Ellwood City, and Theodore R. Duncan of Ellwood City. They are lifelong residents of this vicinity.

D. A. R. NOVEMBER PROGRAM SATURDAY

Lawrence chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, met in the coral room of The Castleton Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Regent Mrs. W. W. Campbell presided.

After a short business meeting, Mrs. Alvah M. Shumaker was introduced and gave delightfully a reading entitled "A Fairy Story."

Mrs. George R. Balph and Regent Mrs. Campbell gave vivid reports touching on highlights of the state convention recently held in Altoona.

A social hour followed during which tea was served with Mrs. H. E. Golder pouring from a beautifully decorated tea table.

Hostesses were Mrs. John R. Bigler, Mrs. W. H. Humphrey, Mrs. Ray J. Robinson, Mrs. Rebecca Wallace, Mrs. J. A. McGrath, Dr. Mildred Rogers, Mrs. J. F. Genkinger, Mrs. Gus Santilippo, Mrs. H. A. Decker, and Mrs. Earl H. Weitz.

Next meeting December 7 will take the form of a silver tea for the D.A.R. approved schools when members and guests will hear as speaker Professor Harold J. Brennan of Westminster college.

Simon Relief Corps No. 11 will have an inspection meeting Wednesday evening, November 6, at 7:30 o'clock in the Trades and Labor assembly hall, East Washington street.

A three dinner will be served at 6 o'clock and inspection will be followed by a social time.

SIMPSON-NICHOLSON WEDDING IN CHAPEL

Exchanging vows at the altar of Wallace Memorial chapel, Westminster college, Miss Joan Marie Simpson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Simpson of 323 Winter avenue, and William David Nicholson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nicholson of 235 East street, were married Saturday afternoon before a group of relatives and friends. Dr. Robert F. Galbreath performed the double ring ceremony.

White chrysanthemums and candelabra, which was flanked by candelabra, and clusters of greenery draped the choir loft behind the pulpit. Preceding the service William Earl, student organist at Westminster, gave a recital of classical and semi-classical selections, with Betty Smith White, a classmate of the bride, singing "Caro Mio Ben" and "One Alone."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length Grecian style gown of white silk jersey with rounded neckline and cap sleeves. Her madonna veil was draped over white chrysanthemum on either side of her head and her arm bouquet was a sheaf of white lilies.

As her cousin's matron of honor, Mrs. Gerard O'Connor of Erie wore a coral gown cut on the same lines as the bride's, with elbow-length aqua gloves and a bandeau of white pompons in her hair. Her flowers were white pompons.

Paul Rice served the bridegroom as best man, and ushers were Herbert Nicholson, brother of the bridegroom, and Pvt. James Simpson, brother of the bride.

After a brief congratulatory period in the vestibule of the chapel, a reception for 100 guests was held in a New Wilmington tea room. The buffet luncheon was served from tables decorated with fall flowers.

Mrs. Nicholson is a graduate of New Castle high school and Westminster college, where she majored in journalism, and is at present on the staff of the New Castle News.

Mr. Nicholson, also a graduate of New Castle senior high school, is now attending the Cleveland School of Art in Cleveland, O. During the war he served as a first lieutenant in the Eighth Air Force.

BETTY WRIGHT AND ALBERT KNIGHT WED

On Friday evening, November 1, at seven o'clock a quiet and impressive wedding ceremony was performed in the Rich Hill Presbyterian manse when Rev. A. B. Weitz united in marriage Miss Betty Caroline Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wright of Edenburg, and Albert Otto Knight, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Knight, R. D. 5, New Castle.

Mrs. Louise Knight, sister-in-law of the bride, served as matron of honor, and William Knight served as best man.

The newlyweds are at home to their friends at 510 Pine street.

Mr. and Mrs. Knight are both employed at the Shinnapo Pottery.

Entertains guests on Saturday Eve

Thirty guests were entertained at a delightful masquerade party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Leasure, Sr. 814 West Washington street, on Saturday evening.

Games and contests were the diversion of the evening, with a "ghost walk" as the main feature. Halloween decorations were carried out in the house.

Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess aided by Mrs. Grace Barnhardt and Mrs. J. E. Leasure.

COSTUME DANCE AT COUNTRY CLUB

New Castle Country club ballroom was a colorful scene Saturday evening as members masked and in costume gathered for dancing to the music of a Grove City orchestra from 10 o'clock till one.

In a throng of bandits, skeletons, colored mammoths, and "gay nineties" prototypes, costume prizes were awarded.

To a pair of grandfather clocks, revealed on unmasking as Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nolan, went honors for the cleverest costumes. To Mrs. Homer R. Allen, garbed, according to varying guesses, as a man from Mars, or a sea diver, was awarded the prize for the most original.

Mrs. Herman Green as "Amber" in a lovely creation of sea green satin won honors for having the prettiest costume.

Next dance at the club will be the annual Charity ball sponsored by the Junior Guild of Jameson Memorial hospital to take place on Saturday evening, November 23.

SHOWER HONORS BETTY JEAN WHITE

Mrs. Richard Doyle entertained a group of friends on a recent evening at a delightful party in her home on Highland avenue in honor of Miss Betty Jean White, bride-elect of this month.

Various games and contests were diversions of the evening.

Later the honoree was presented with a shower of useful and attractive gifts of a miscellaneous nature for her future home.

Dainty refreshments were served at an appropriate hour by the hostess, aided by Mrs. James H. Doyle.

Miss White, daughter of Mrs. Anna Belle White, of 414 Leasure avenue, will become the bride of Robert King Doyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Doyle, of 1105 Highland avenue, at an open church ceremony to be performed Wednesday evening, November 20, at 7:30 o'clock, in the First Christian church.

Miss White is affiliated with the Bell Telephone company, of this city, and Mr. Doyle, a discharged veteran, is employed at the Matthews Conveyor company, of Ellwood City.

TRINITY CHURCH CHOIR HAS SHOWER

After regular rehearsal, members of Trinity Episcopal church choir gathered for a social time in the guild room of the church.

Several new members participated and a towel shower was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Ben Johnson, recent bride and groom, both members of the choir.

A lunch was served at a table centered with a large bouquet of yellow, white and bronze mums. Yellow tapers completed the table decorations.

Miss Isabel Johnson, organist and choir director, was chairman of arrangements and was assisted by Mrs. W. A. McNally, Mrs. Dudley Arnold, Mrs. Harry J. Cullford, and Mrs. William Dugan.

Special guests were Bert Pack, Joseph Adams, William Dugan and Rev. Robert M. C. Griswold.

PLANS FOR WEDDING THURSDAY REVEALED

Thursday, November 7, is the date chosen by Miss Hazel Ziegler of Elizabeth avenue for her marriage to W. Weldon Johnston of Court street.

Miss Ziegler has chosen Miss Helen Hazen as maid of honor and her cousin, Miss Eleanor Warnock as bridesmaid. Her aunt, Mrs. Nellie Brock will be soloist.

Mr. Johnston has asked his uncle, Fred F. Jones, to be best man and Wayne McEwen and Walter Peterson to usher.

The open church wedding ceremony will be solemnized at the First Baptist church, at 7:30 p. m., with Rev. Oliver W. Hirst officiating.

D. D. D. Club Meets

Mrs. Kenneth Knight, Almita avenue, was the charming hostess for the members of the D. D. D. 500 club when they met in her home on Thursday evening.

High score prizes were awarded to Mrs. Ray Fulkerson, Mrs. Leonard Oberleitter and Mrs. Robert Maher.

Special guests of the club were Mrs. William Faxon, Mrs. Howard Stanley and Mrs. Robert Maher.

A tasty luncheon was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. George Woodring.

Mrs. Richard Jones, West Washington street, will entertain the club in her home on November 14.

GO TO THE POLLS

In theory, we have government by majority in this nation. In practice, we frequently have government by minority.
A glance at the voting figures of many past elections will substantiate this. Time and time again, under half of the registered voters go to the polls on election day. This is particularly true of local elections, and national elections in off-years when there is no race for the presidency. And when that happens, the "voice of the people" is a small and ineffectual voice indeed.
Our ancestors fought for centuries to win and maintain the right of franchise. It is the basic guardian of free government—and of all the other freedoms which are possible only under free government. It is first right to be abrogated by dictators—as the travesties on the "free" election system which used to occur periodically in Germany, Italy and elsewhere prove. It is the greatest defense against oppression.
The citizen who fails to vote shirks a basic and inescapable responsibility. Go to the polls on election day and cast your ballot for the men and measures of your choice. That is both a great duty and great privilege.
Tuesday is election day!

Defective Headlights

Anything but encouraging is the report of two traffic experts that cases of defective headlights have increased to such an extent that a sharp upswing in night highway accidents during the coming winter is in prospect.
The two experts, William J. Gottlieb, president of the Automobile Club of New York, and Julian H. Harvey, managing director of the National Conservation Bureau, emphasized that night accidents average 60 per cent of the total of all highway mishaps.
Winter, they agreed, is particularly dangerous because of slippery highway conditions and extra hours of darkness. They pointed out that winter provides enough problems without adding to them by driving cars with dim, glaring or otherwise unsatisfactory light equipment.
Mr. Harvey hit the nail on the head with the statement that, while strict law enforcement will eliminate a limited number of the "dead-eye" and "starry-eye" machines, the most effective solution lies in personal responsibility, where each motorist does his or her part to reduce the dangers which descend on darkened roadways.
Every motorist ought to know the condition of his lights. If they are defective, little effort or expense is needed to bring them up to standard. It is a small price to pay for greatly increased highway safety. It is a price no driver would decline to pay if he realized what it could accomplish in the saving of life and property.
Bringing home the realization is the big job to be accomplished.

One-Man Control

The recent meat episode, with its sudden price decontrolling, gives eloquent testimony that our political postwar reconstruction has proceeded at no faster a rate than our economic reconstruction.
When the war was over nearly everyone sat back and breathed a sigh of relief. It was believed that we would proceed rapidly on the road to normalcy as was the case after the First World War. President Truman was in the White House and had assumed the Presidency with the best wishes of everyone. There was an era of good feeling throughout the country, and timid Republicans were fearful that instead of a Roosevelt wave we might have a Truman political wave in 1948.
Since that time there has been a series of disillusion and disappointments. Strike has followed strike, and production has been slowed on nearly every front.
But political reconstruction has proceeded as slowly as has economic reconstruction. Before the war we were still a nation in which the three legislative branches of government continued to function, despite the efforts of the New Dealers to hamstring our system of representative government. With the war came the series of laws and edicts which turned us into a totalitarian state in order to defeat our totalitarian enemies. With the ending of the war we were supposedly to return to traditional American government. But we haven't done so—as yet.
When the meat famine became acute one man decreed that it was to continue through the maintenance of price controls. When the famine became so bad as to threaten political reprisals one man by edict set aside the controls and opened the way for the return of free marketing in meat and the consequent relief of the famine.
One point not to be forgotten is that in all this crisis one man held the key to the situation and could control the supply of meat as he pleased. That is not the American way of doing things. It is the Russian way, and it has no business in America, especially in peace times. The Oklahoman well says:
"And here, we believe, is an evil more grave in its potentialities than meat prices or a meat famine. Here is a delegation of power that authorizes one man to say whether the people of America shall eat or starve. And we believe that the creation and exercise of such an absolute power in this American republic is an evil thing indeed."
This ordered suspension of a menacing famine as only a truce. The people have been relieved temporarily but not freed permanently. They can have no assurance that the calamity from which the President has delivered them will not return just any day. They never can be certain of a permanent deliverance until they shall have elected a Congress that is opposed in principle to the Stalinization of the American republic.

Tribe in India are fighting with stones, or primitive atomic bombs.
American people are now being warned against taking themselves into a depression.
The great political "liberals" are fading out, having failed to convince the people that two plus two equals five.
Creeping strike paralysis has started in the soft coal industry, although spring, formerly was the season for it.

WASHINGTON CALLING
by MARQUIS CHILDS

Iowa Is Completely Republican State

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., Nov. 4.—The essence of Republicanism is Iowa—the Iowa of today—with the field full of young cattle and fattening hogs and the golden harvest of corn spilling out of overflowing granaries.
In fact, this state is so completely Republican today that nomination in the Republican primary is equivalent to election, just as it is in the Democratic primary in the solid South. That means a one-party system and it is a fact which concerns some Iowans.
Motoring from Clinton to Cedar Rapids, we passed an alfalfa field where eight small planes were under canvas cover. They were the private planes, I was told, of neighboring farmers or farmers' sons. That is one token of Iowa's prosperity. The countryside looks as rich and placid as one of Grant Wood's handsome paintings. And so does this thriving city of 70,000 which lays claim to being Iowa's chief industrial center.

Aware of Prosperity Situation

Yet Iowans are aware, as they let you know occasionally, how net this prosperity is. On the train I talked with a young veteran who told me of his father's struggles to hold his farm through the lean 20's and early 30's when prices dropped lower and lower.
"Now," he said, "dad has got the mortgage paid off. He's got some money in the bank. But don't make too much of our prosperity. Remember the bad times we went through before it came."
There were bad times, very bad times, and not so long ago either. In 1931 and 1932 entrenched farmers banded together to prevent sheriff's sales. Corn was selling for a small fraction of its price today. Those angry farmers went to stop foreclosure and bankruptcy, even if they had to die for it.
Before that, the government in Washington—Republican government—had been trying to shore up prices. The Republicans tinkered with the McNary-Haugen bill and with other devices to restore prosperity to the productive Middle West.

Like Bringing Out Skeleton

A police visitor would not bring up these things at all. It's like trotting out the skeleton at the banquet.
But Iowa's Republicanism in this year of triumph is so pristine and pure that the temptation to recall the past is irresistible. The conversation you hear and overhear is all about getting the government out of business; about the evils of bureaucracy; the New Deal and the wickedness of our government intervention. In short, the Republicanism of this year of prosperity, 1946 is exactly like the Republicanism of 1920, when another tide of confidence was running strong.
But the visitor can help wondering what would happen if commodity prices should start slipping again. Would there be a cry for the government to step in? Or would this reversal of the tide be accepted, in all consistency, as the working of the cherished law of supply and demand?
In the South they've already supplied a kind of answer to those questions. King Cotton is wobbling on his throne. A New Orleans cotton speculator is said to have broken the market in the good old-fashioned way and the price of cotton has fallen and fallen and fallen again.

Immediately the cry has arisen that the government should stop it somehow—the government should never have allowed it to happen. What is more, this cry came from conservative southerners. Democrats who have denounced price controls and every other instrument of government intervention as works of the devil.
Perhaps cotton is no real test. Corn and hogs may have immunity. But those who talk the Republicanism of 1920 should remember the cost of consistency. The cost was high in 1931 and '32. It was so high that this rock-ribbed Republican state of Iowa went Democratic for several elections in a row.

Mr. Truman had less to say publicly riding from Washington to Missouri than Paul Revere did on a shorter haul.

Paul called out "The British Are Coming!" at every house but Harry breezed through half a dozen states without addressing the populace whether the Democrats were coming, going or staying.

It looks as though H. S. T. stands for "Have Stopped Talking".
Next to Harry's somber silence, Cal Coolidge shapes up in memory as talkative.

I don't know whether the Democratic National Committee held Mr. T. incommunicado or whether he was waiting for some candidate to mention his name first.

The only thing I can figure is that the last time he talked with Henry Wallace he may have said "One of Us Should Stop Making Speeches". And as Henry didn't... Harry did.

LOOKING AT LIFE
By ERICH BRANDEIS

Every once in a while when I have a quiet week-end, I read one of the books, or part of one of the books, which the late Arthur Brisbane recommended to those who want to be better newspapermen.
By the way, that same list of books is not only an excellent selection for newspapermen, but for all who want to understand life a little better and who want to add to their treasury of culture.

Yesterday I came across a bit of Socrates.
"The shortest and surest way to live with honor in the world is to be in reality what we would appear to be; and, if we observe, we shall find that all human virtues increase and strengthen themselves by the practice and experience of them."
Just think that over for a minute.

How much time do you spend trying to appear to be something and how much really being what you would appear to be?
How much do you practice and apply them to your daily life?

You will find truths like that in many of the books, each one a gem that may well fit into your own life and make living happier and easier for you.
Reading good reading, should be as much a part of every human being's diet as eating.

The mind must be fed, just as the body must be fed every day. "Feed your mind more and your body less," said Brisbane.
"Don't think because you went to college that you are cultured, and because you read and studied years ago that your mind is properly fed. A prize-fighter can fight on the best of his a ten years' ago," to quote Brisbane once more.

When I was in school, I read Shakespeare, Plato, Sophocles.

Isn't it a dirty shame that we can't get along better than we do... so much disagreement between ourselves. We look back over the years... the ones just past and shudder at the things that we have gone through. The regulations that were made in order that this nation could coordinate in such a manner as to bring to their knees the most aggressive nations in the world... and yet today we are having most difficult in getting things settled so that production can go forward in a peaceful world.

Two factors working against each other... neither one right... neither one wrong in their entirety. Each must make concessions... remarking about labor and management... or whatever terms you are accustomed to using.

Labor can't expect to maintain the same level that was attained during the war emergency... neither can management expect to go all the way back to the level that was traveled during the non-war years. BUT if something isn't agreed upon... and but quick... things will be on a level that neither labor or management will enjoy.

They say... don't change horses in the middle of the stream... it seems that we have been crossing the stream for a great number of years and that by this time we are definitely not in the middle... but to such a point that it is very necessary to change horses if we ever expect to make it across without stepping in a hole that is way over our heads. President Truman And 1948 Situation

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—THERE are increasing evidences that the assumption upon which so many have been proceeding—including the writer of this column—that Mr. Truman is sure to be the Democratic candidate to succeed himself in 1948 is not well based. Also, the general notion that an elected President or one who has succeeded to the presidency is always renominated or can always renominate himself is widely at variance with historical facts.

OF the six Vice Presidents who, because of presidential death, succeeded to the presidency prior to Mr. Truman, four—Tyler, Fillmore, Johnson and Arthur—did not receive their party's nomination for the ensuing term. Tyler withdrew; Fillmore belatedly was nominated by another party after being repudiated by his own; Johnson was passed by; and Arthur was beaten for the nomination by Blaine. True, Theodore Roosevelt and Calvin Coolidge were nominated practically by acclamation, but in both cases their party was firmly entrenched in power and both were the unchallenged leaders of that party. Of our elected Presidents, Polk, Pierce, Buchanan and Hayes failed to be nominated for a second term. However, no one-term President in the last 60 years has failed to be renominated, and it is that upon which the above-mentioned assumption rests. Nevertheless, there obviously is no party precedent or tradition of such length of character as to make renomination inevitable after one term secured either by election or succession.

RENOMINATION of such Presidential depends upon the man, the condition of his party and the general situation. The opposite view, which is the common view, has been expressed in this place a number of times. Admission is here freely made that it is incorrect. Mr. Truman easily may be his party's 1948 nominee. But there is no sure about that—and except for the last 60 years there is no party precedent that calls for his nomination. And during that 60 years the Presidents renominated were re-nominated because of party and political reasons and not precedent.

THUS putting precedent aside as non-binding, the question of Mr. Truman's nomination can now be considered as a practical political and personal proposition. As this numerous tried-out tests when any person or married couple may apply with profit.
After reading this splendid book I still wished the authors had drawn home more forcefully than they did the simple principle which they frequently implied: that for success in marriage each person of the couple must keep uppermost in the mind the welfare and happiness of the mate, each looking for his own happiness through the genuine happiness of the other, each striving constantly at self-discipline to this end.
In their "After Thoughts" the authors say: "What is important is that your mate should fit into the general pattern of the kind of person you need, and should be free from the reach of serious shortcomings we have mentioned."
Sense Of Well-Being
"Perhaps the most important thought we can leave with you is that the person you marry should be one who will give you a sense of well-being. So far that is fine, but I wish they had added something like this: 'Of course, it is equally important that the person whom you marry should be one to whom you will give a sense of well-being.' They really did say so in an earlier chapter.
Adams and Packard do set a modest bit of illusion in their concluding classic paragraph:
"We must not expect a married couple to be everything. They live in a world of do's and don'ts, and are not to be children. They are not to be parties and on week-end excursions and eat out whenever they have a chance."

IF a stronger man can be found, he will cheerfully co-operate. Clearly, however, he would have to be a man with a vastly better chance of being elected and no such man seems to exist within the party. Certainly, there is none in Congress, none among the Democratic governors, none anywhere else so far as can be seen. Clearly, Mr. Truman would make a better fight than any other regular Democrat. With a split party weakened down with heavy responsibilities. The odds are against any party man in 1948.

UNDER these conditions what the Democrats need is not a party man but one with an appeal far beyond the party and to the country. Most Democrats agree about that and most agree, too, there is just one such in sight, and his name is Eisenhower. Concededly, he would make an ideal candidate and a great President, two objections are made to the General—first, that he is a Republican; second, that he will not move to secure the nomination. The answer to the first is that while General Eisenhower does come from a Republican family, he himself is neither Republican nor Democrat. He has never been affiliated with any party affiliation. The answer to the second is that he will not resist a real draft and that that is the only way he should be nominated. The big argument, of course, is that if the Republicans gain control of Congress next month the Democratic outlook for 1948 will be pretty bleak and the party's only hope lies in the drafting of the General.

THERE is some reason to believe that instead of being reluctant to Mr. Truman this idea might be a relief. For one thing, it would give the country a highly qualified President who is not a politician and would be under no obligation to any party, group, element or individual. Few will deny the need of the nation for that kind of President is dire, indeed.

CHOOSING THE RIGHT MATE

The very cornerstone of our nation are the husband and wife, father and mother. How this cornerstone has been crumbling! No doubt you read the recent newspaper report issued by the Federal Security Agency of a 25 per cent rise in divorce in 1945, with a ratio of one divorce to three marriages. I keep wondering what the rate will be when my grandchildren arrive at a marriageable age. They range in age now from one month to seven years.

There are some good books which aim to show youth how to choose a mate wisely and live happily thereafter. The latest and best book of this kind was written by Dr. Clifford R. Adams and Vance O. Packard—How To Pick A Mate. The Guide to Happy Marriage (Dutton N. Y.).

Researches Available
This fine book makes available in readable form the gist of researches in the field. It presents numerous tried-out tests when any person or married couple may apply with profit.
After reading this splendid book I still wished the authors had drawn home more forcefully than they did the simple principle which they frequently implied: that for success in marriage each person of the couple must keep uppermost in the mind the welfare and happiness of the mate, each looking for his own happiness through the genuine happiness of the other, each striving constantly at self-discipline to this end.

What People Say

LAKE SUCCESS.—Senator Vandenberg, American member of U. N. bureau committee charged to the United Nations, giving half the administrative costs. Proud as he is in our economic system, the United States delegation is unable to accept as valid the flatting concept that it is so good an economic system that it gives 5 percent of the people of the earth a percent of the earth's income.

EASTON, PA.—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower: "Both selfish interest and the world's future press us to a firm resolve that we shall never again through our apathy or weakness permit aggression another chance."

NEW YORK.—Dr. Roscoe Pound, dean emeritus of the Harvard law school following his return from China: "One doesn't realize that there is any civil war going on here. Things appear quiet and life goes on slowly and smoothly. It is the Communist art and the officials and they know how to count. They are counted very much like Mr. Pendergast and his gang counted votes in Kansas City. That is true also of Mexico and the South American 'Republics.' Ever so often there is a Revolution in some Central or South American Republic. It is generally a Revolution caused by one of our officials and who take the Revolution as a means of ousting the 'man.'"

In Yugoslavia, Bulgaria, Rumania, Poland, Austria and Hungary, very much the same sort of thing has happened during the years of their existence a few intelligent strong men have ruled these countries and the great mass of the population have submitted.

All of this talk about spreading the idea of Democracy among the peoples of the earth is just "horse feathers."

Remember, you, too, have a responsibility to fulfill.

BANQUET SEASON

The banquet season starts once more. The ticket takers at the door. The ladies furred in minx and sable. The march of lions to the table. The usual guests arriving late. The cup of fruit at every plate. The chicken, and on Fridays, fish. The peas and carrots in a dish. The microphone, the lecture stand. The menu, with the program planned. The forty men who must, somehow, be called upon to "take a bow." The telegrams (there're always some). From those who found they couldn't come. The officers, both past and new. The chairman and the speakers, too. All are there—and now we can look pleasant for the camera man. (Copyright, 1946, Edgar A. Guest)

The World And the Mud Puddles

HORSEFEATHERS.

Scientists have figured that men have lived on the face of the earth for two hundred fifty thousand years. I do not know how they reached their figure but they have certainly made such a statement. The Assyrian and Babylonian inscriptions have been deciphered as well as the Egyptian characters, but even these do not reach back any such length of time.

In all this time the peoples of the earth have not been governed by anything like our present so-called Democracy. All we know about the governments of the world leads us to the unqualified statement that they have been governments by the few, who possessed the brains and the power to govern. Even Greece in its period of great intelligence was so governed.

The people of Europe and the people of Asia and the people of Africa know nothing about any government except that based upon force. The great mass of the people in the world—about two billion of them—do not possess enough intelligence to enable them to choose what kind of a government they will have or what men will administer that government.

Now comes a man by the name of Graham Sullivan who is a Rotarian. He spent some time in Peru and has just returned to his home town. He spoke at a Rotary meeting recently and said that in Lima, Peru, they have a Rotary Club of one hundred ten members and he believed that through Rotary could come international understanding and peace. He described Lima as the one large city of Peru and stated that seventy per cent of the inhabitants of Peru were illiterate but he felt confident that Peru is truly working towards Democracy. Now don't you beat that! With seventy per cent of its population illiterate, what kind of a Democracy will Peru eventually have?

Now, Peru is a so-called "Republic" like the rest of the "Republics" of South America. Its officers are self-perpetuating. The people vote—well. And the voters are counted—officials and they know how to count. They are counted very much like Mr. Pendergast and his gang counted votes in Kansas City. That is true also of Mexico and the South American "Republics." Ever so often there is a Revolution in some Central or South American Republic. It is generally a Revolution caused by one of our officials and who take the Revolution as a means of ousting the "man."

In Yugoslavia, Bulgaria, Rumania, Poland, Austria and Hungary, very much the same sort of thing has happened during the years of their existence a few intelligent strong men have ruled these countries and the great mass of the population have submitted.

All of this talk about spreading the idea of Democracy among the peoples of the earth is just "horse feathers."

Devising Better Electronic Brain For Calculations

LONDON, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Countless students, who from kindergarten to college claimed that mathematics drove them "nuts", might take encouragement today from Dr. Andrew Booth of London university.

Booth, outstanding physicist in London U's Birbeck College, is developing a bigger, faster, "better-memorized" yet simpler electronic brain than the famed American "Eniac" computer.

Still, the renowned doctor frankly admits that even his machine "goes insane." Students will blame it on the math, no doubt.

Booth's machine is claimed to have a greater capacity and can perform more complicated calculations than Eniac. While the U. S. war department spent four million dollars on its calculator, the British device is expected to cost less than $50,000.

Eniac has some 18,000 electronic valves, but Booth's have but 3,000. Due to the manpower shortages, Booth's brain is not yet in production though a $4,500-model will be completed by the end of the year.

Questioned on the merits of his project, Booth declared:

"It takes a quarter-second to do a 29-figure multiplication. It is intended to work on atomic structures, and all the calculations involved. According to Booth, the machine will be versatile and will obediently answer any question which scientists may ask it. While Eniac needs a space 80-by-40 feet, the new device needs only the space in a fair-size living room."

LETTERS TO THE NEWS

(Letters intended for this column must be signed with name and address of writer.)

November 1, 1946.
Editor, The New Castle News.

Dear Sir:

We want you to know how much we appreciate your editorial of October 29, "Take Time To Vote." Too few Americans seem to realize that it takes "a healthy year-around interest" to keep our government by the people and for the people. Too few seem to realize that every moment of our lives is, or may be, affected by government or "politics." If our long neglect of our responsibilities as citizens of a democracy has resulted in a slate of candidates in next Tuesday's election who seem, by their past record and by their campaign speeches to be more than anxious to please a group who can vote them into office than they are anxious to bring peace, opportunity for well being, and justice to all America and to its world neighbors, we have only ourselves to blame. We must still go to the polls and choose those men who seem most likely to understand that one group or one nation can not thrive if the rest are suffering injustice. Then, we must take the "healthy year-around interest" your editorial suggests, in what the successful candidates do with the jobs they sought and won. It takes time to be a citizen in a democracy. Do we want a democracy in a world at peace, enough to give this time? Or are we to waken some day and learn that "it can happen here"; and that we are again at war?

Yours truly,
BERTHA M. BECK,
Publications Chairman, League of Women Voters.

EASTON—Four-year-old Sandra Line was sure her fox terrier named "Skippy" had been killed until she saw a picture of an acrobatic dog that had muscled in on some antics of cheer leaders at a high school football game. Sure enough, there was Skippy hamming up the act.

Mrs. William Emerick, 1016 Dewey avenue, was the charming hostess, for a group of friends recently when she entertained at a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Harriette McGary, bride-elect of this month. Mrs. Ruth Nelson was co-hostess to the occasion.

Games were the entertainment of the evening with prizes being awarded Mrs. George Emerick, Mrs. Helen Emerick, Miss Hazel Kurtz and Miss Edna Pebbles.

A novel way was chosen by the hostess to present the gifts to the honoree. Every fifteen minutes during the evening an alarm clock in a secluded spot would ring until found by the guest of honor, thus revealing a gift. Many lovely gifts were received for her future home.

A scrapbook was also made containing the news of the pre-nuptial events.

A delicious luncheon was served buffet style with miniature brides as favors. Mrs. Charles McGary and Mrs. Helen Emerick, poured.

WELCOME HOME PARTY HONORS SERVICEMEN

On Saturday evening, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Reed, 917 Marshall avenue, entertained 78 relatives and friends in honor of the returned veterans of their immediate families. There are 11 who have received their honorable discharge: William Reed, Glenn and Walter Ziegler, Herbert and Charles Bissley, Clair Warner, John Walthour, Richard Shafter, Chester Wadington, John Singer and Wheldon Johnston.

For the evening's entertainment dancing and singing was featured with music furnished by Walter Bigley and family of Harmony and Mr. and Mrs. Claire Warner, of Middle Lancaster.

The house was decorated for the occasion with signs posted which read "Welcome Home Boys".

A delicious luncheon was served by the hostess, Mrs. W. L. Reed, assisted by Mrs. Emmet Ziegler, Mrs. LeRoy Book, Mrs. Tempa Stickle and Mrs. Herbert Warnock.

FRIENDS, RELATIVES MARK ANNIVERSARY

On Saturday evening friends and relatives gathered in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Remick Thompson, High street, New Wilmington. The event was to celebrate the seventy-fourth birthday anniversary of Mr. Thompson.

The hostess served a delicious chicken dinner at 6:30, assisted by Mrs. William Thompson. Floral decorations and a large birthday cake graced the table.

Mrs. Thompson's grandsons, Donald and Leroy Davies, of Frederick, Md., students at Westminster College, entertained with a number of vocal selections. Robert Thompson, nephew of Mr. Thompson also gave a vocal solo.

The honored guest received some nice gifts.

HELENA AUXILIARY PROGRAM AT CHURCH

Helena auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church met in the church parlors at 2 o'clock November 1 for its monthly program. Mrs. Mary Martin was hostess.

Devotional subject, "Through Giving Thanks," was led by Mrs. Edna A. Porter. On the program, Mrs. C. W. Wetlich reviewed chapter four of the Progress of Women in India. Mrs. L. H. Gordon's topic was Missions in the Southern Mountains.

Business and the devotional program was followed by a generous thank offering.

POETRY GROUP TO MEET AT LIBRARY

Poetry Group will meet for an appreciation meeting in the public library Tuesday evenings at 7:30.

Discussion of French verse forms will be led by Miss Alice Sterling and of Edgar Guest by Miss Dorothy Hunter.

Miss Frances Haydon will act as critic for original verse.

Meetings of the group are open to the public.

Entertains Section A

Mr. A. J. Minnick, Maryland avenue, was the hostess for the members of Section A of the Y. L. B. class of the Third United Presbyterian church when they met in her home on Thursday evening.

Games and contests were the evening's entertainment with prizes going to Mrs. Bert Book and Mrs. J. E. Gorman.

The house was decorated for the occasion and delicious Halloween refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by her daughter, Pauline.

The group was also entertained recently at the home of Mrs. Albert Letz, Maryland avenue, for an evening of sewing. The hostess served a tasty luncheon assisted by her daughter, Alma.

Next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Frank Pluch, Highland avenue, for a 1 o'clock dessert on November 14.

Take Western Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Doerr of Winter avenue have returned from a 10-day vacation spent in Denver, Boulder and Estes Park, Colo.

At Boulder they visited Mrs. Doerr's cousin, Miss Lucille Lutton, of Maryland avenue, a teacher in the Rose Avenue school, who is studying this year at the University of Colorado.

At Estes Park they visited their aunt, Mrs. A. H. Stamm, and cousins, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Coppeland. Mrs. Stamm, who has been a frequent visitor here, is leaving Estes Park this week to make her permanent home in Palo Alto, Calif. She formerly resided in Cleveland, O.

Cavalier Club

Mrs. Louis Mastrangelo received the Cavalier club Sunday evening in her home, Phillips street.

Games and cards were played, and prize was awarded to Mrs. Arson Armungo. Mrs. Louis Mastrangelo received the hostess prize.

Later a dainty lunch was served, and Mrs. Frank DeMatteo, aided the hostess.

November 17 is the meeting with Mrs. Sam Flora, of Matland street.

Annual Reunion
Of Apollo Club*Members Of Former Male
Chorus Have Get-Together
On Saturday Night

Old times and old friends were renewed Saturday night November 2 when members of the Apollo Club, at one time a leading male glee society in New Castle, together with their families, enjoyed the annual reunion dinner in the Sylvan Heights club house. Fifty were present and following the dinner a program was presented with the main attraction, glee singing by the members present.

The dinner, a typical Haycock classic, was served by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel D. Haycock, managers of Sylvan Heights. The invocation was offered by Griff Thomas. Following the dinner President G. Wilfred Thomas took charge.

Varied Program
First upon the program was the Apollo Quartet, consisting of Arthur B. Harris, David W. Rees, Russell P. Rhodes and Leonard W. Kishart, with E. E. Bransetter at the piano. William D. Williams, Jr., followed with a baritone solo and he in turn was followed by Miss Marston Wheldon who sang Mellett's "Lord's Prayer" in a way that delighted the crowd. Leonard W. Kishart was heard in a bass solo with David W. Rees following with a tenor solo. Mr. and Mrs. John M. Evans, both former accompanists of the club played two piano duets. Mrs. Evans accompanied Mr. Rees.

Griff Thomas pleased with several humorous readings and Albert C. Harris of Akron, O., spoke briefly but humorously. Ivan C. Wetmore of Youngstown brought greetings as did Thomas W. Perrott of Pittsburgh.

A brief memorial service was held for the five members of the club who have died over the year. They were Fred Kelsey, George Hughes, Budd Hamilton, I. J. Miller and Walter Shaton. At the conclusion of the service Griff Thomas offered prayer.

Business Session

A business session was held in which Secretary Roger E. Francis made his report and read letters from members unable to be present. Griff Thomas made the treasurer's report. All officers were re-elected. They are: President G. Wilfred Thomas, Vice President Albert J. Genkinger, Secretary Roger E. Francis and Treasurer Griff Thomas.

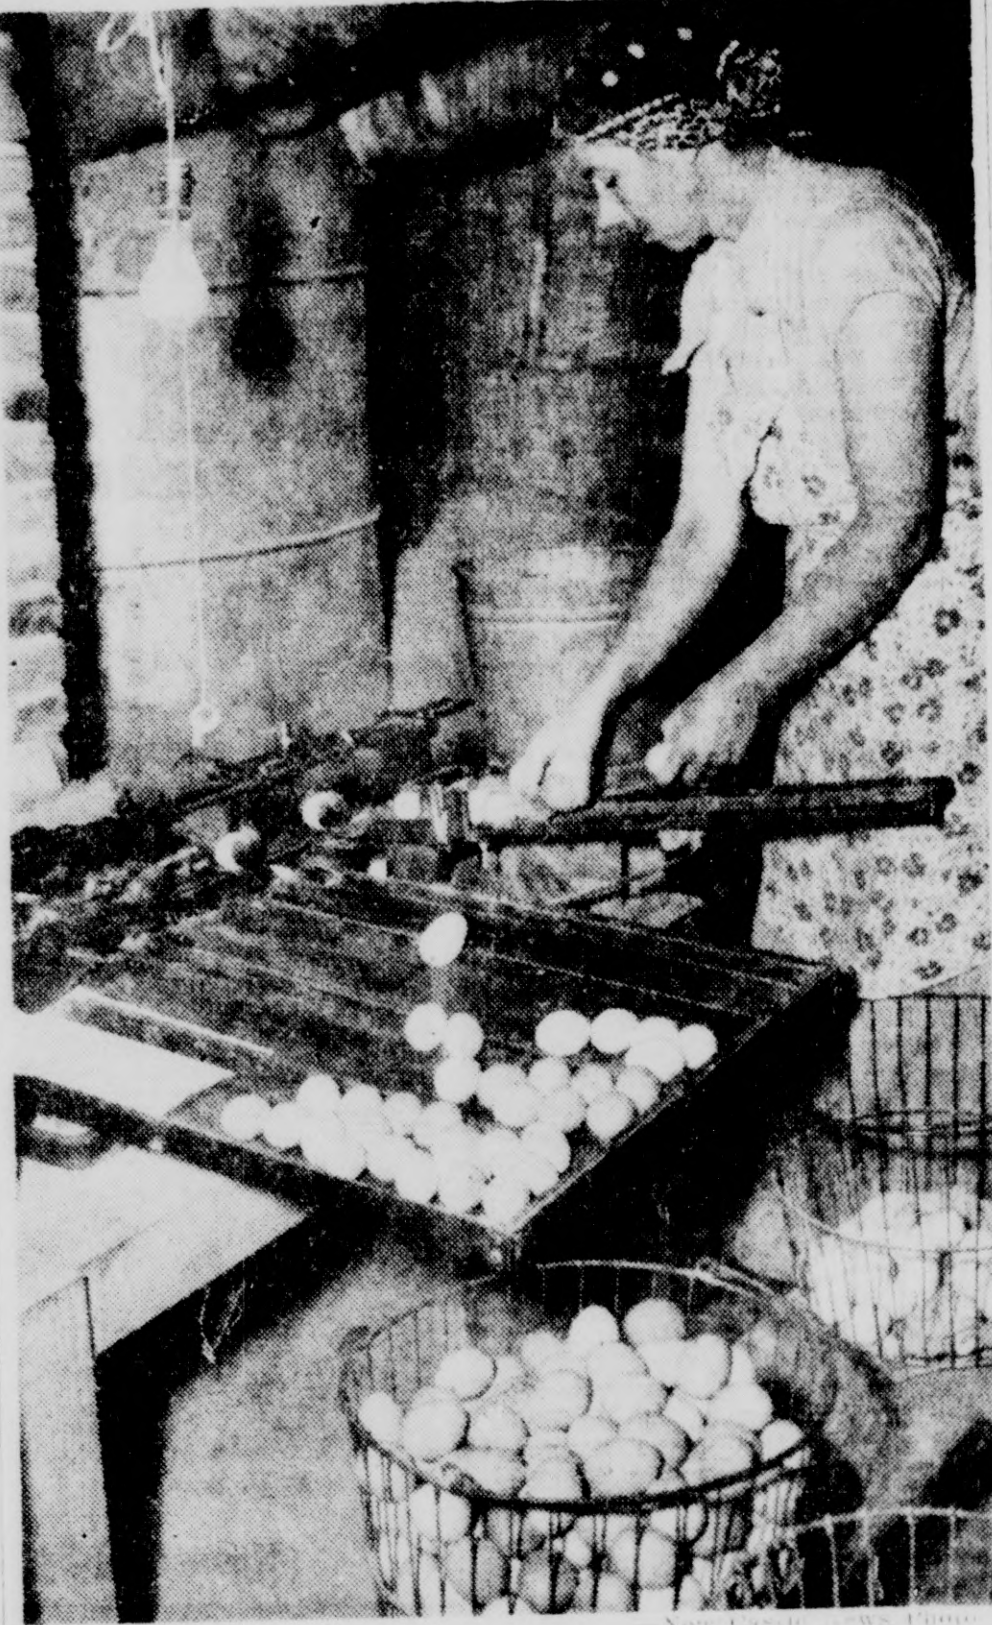

The 1947 reunion will be held on the last Saturday of October, barring any necessity for a postponement.

NEW CASTLE, Pa. (The Times)—A photograph taken by The News photographer, Mrs. Thompson is grading eggs on an electrically operated machine.

Electricity is valuable to the modern hatchery man it is obvious at the Moreland Thompson hatchery, New Wilmington, R. D. 2. In this photograph taken by The News photographer, Mrs. Thompson is grading eggs on an electrically operated machine. The eggs are carried by a conveyor to various slots. They drop according to weight upon a padded surface; then are placed in a basket and then in an egg cleaning machine, also electrically operated. At present the hatchery produces 2,000 eggs daily. The incubator is electrically operated and chicken house drinking water is also heated by an electric cable.

GRID RIOT SATURDAY

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Three students were held in $300 bail for the grand jury today on charges of inciting a riot as an aftermath of Princeton's stunning football victory over Penn on Saturday.

Those held by Magistrate James T. Donnelly are William Anderson, 19, of Maplewood, N. J., and Fred Stout, 22, of Ardmore, both Princeton students, and Coleman Whitlock, 23, of Philadelphia, a Penn medical student.

More than a dozen policemen were cut and bruised in a battle for the goal posts after the game. Mounted policemen finally restored order.

It fall pigs are to go into winter in a strong and thrifty condition, prepared to make profitable gains during the winter months, they need access to good pasture and a long nursing period.

In winter when pasture is not available, good quality legume hay can be incorporated into the rations to supply proteins and vitamins as well as roughage. Hay improves the quality of the feed and reduces its cost.

A ration of 30 to 35 per cent ground legume hay also can be fed to advantage to breeding stock, and labor will be saved by using self-feeders.

A Happy Marriage

"And we know another couple who are the kind some people would feel sorry for. They have four whooping youngsters that virtually pin them to the homestead and make outside social life impossible. They must fight a constant battle with living costs to get ahead financially. During most of their free moments they must work about their house, upholstering furniture, fixing leaking faucets or hanging windows.

"Yet these two mates are immensely happy in marriage. They have a sense of purpose in life—a sense of well-being. They are so glad they are married to each other that they can shrug off the many irritations that beset them as unimportant. Both of them would confide to you that marriage is a wonderful, enriching experience."

Those two paragraphs might well go down through the ages.

MATURE BRIDE

"Is it permissible for a mature bride of forty but youthful in appearance to wear a long afternoon dress, a Juliet cap and shoulder-length veil à la pastel, not white of course, for her first marriage? With this, would it be permissible for the groom to wear a dark business suit at four o'clock. May there be a maid-of-honor and two bridesmaids? Is a reception permissible and a wedding cake, too?"

Answer: Your choice of an afternoon dress and a matching hat is in excellent taste.

A maiden bride, regardless of age, may wear white and the traditional dress and veil if she chooses for these are symbolic of her maidenhood. But regardless of her youth, the bride who is embarking on her second marriage, must not wear white.

Many young women write to me that their first marriage was an elopement. "It was a mistake and of short duration." Because of this, don't you think I might correctly dress as a bride?

The answer is an unqualified "no." A married woman, regardless of her youth or the circumstances of her first marriage is not a maiden, hence she is not privileged to dress as a maiden bride.

While it is entirely proper for a mature maiden bride to wear the traditional attire, there are few women over thirty who can do so with any measure of success. The youthful lines of a white-veil training as aging face will add years, thus making the mature bride somewhat ridiculous.

A suit fit for travel or a long afternoon dress is more appropriate. Your groom may wear a dark business suit but morning clothes are preferable. Bridesmaids are permissible only when the bride wears a wedding veil. A maid-of-honor should be your only attendant. You may correctly have a reception and a wedding cake, too.

Present your problems to Miss Martel who will promptly mail personal replies to questions from readers including stamped, self-addressed envelopes.

ARE YOU INTERESTED IN GOOD GOVERNMENT?

A Government is judged in its efficiency in the service it renders its constituency. The generation unborn will long remember the way our State Administration adheres to a conservation program.

The establishment of a State Authority governing conservation should be set up with proper legislation to stop the rape of our soil thru the exploitation of strip-mining and the pollution of our streams. The contour restoration of land where strip-mining has been in process should be mandatory. All waterways should be analyzed and so stocked with fish. Wild game farms should be established so as to render it possible for all hunters to enjoy a good season.

Our candidate Arsen F. Armond stands for such a program.

The do-nothing legislation in regards to the veterans of the state of Penna. our candidate abhors. He believes in legislation that will facilitate the rehabilitation of veterans thru a liberal state bonus, better housing facilities and jobs security. Our candidate also believes in the establishment in all counties, a welfare setup to take care of indigent children.

Our candidate Arsen F. Armond wishes to take this opportunity to thank you for supporting him for this office in the General Assembly for the First District in the city of New Castle.

A vote for Armond is a vote for Good Government.

Recognition Of Romania Now Being Reviewed

LONDON, Nov. 4.—(INS)—A foreign office spokesman said today that Great Britain was reviewing its recognition of the Romanian administration in view of that nation's failure to fulfill promises it would broaden its government.

The spokesman made his statement in reply to the recent Romanian contention that British representations to the Bucharest government over elections were unwarranted.

He maintained that the representations were valid because of Romania's promise last January 6 to grant freedom of speech and permit election meetings to the opposition groups.

The spokesman said the British government has been informed that the Giza administration in Romania has failed to carry out that promise.

Reveal Protests Made To Japan By United States

TOKYO, Nov. 4.—(INS)—The prosecution at the International War Crimes trial in Tokyo today presented a long series of United States diplomatic notes showing America protested every aggressive move Japan made in Asia since 1931.

The evidence forms part of the American and British phase of the prosecution of former Premier Tojo and 26-codefendants charged with embarking upon aggression, culminating in the "Road to Pearl Harbor."

CHRIST METHODIST PASTOR RETURNS FROM CONFERENCE

Rev. Francesco P. Sulmoniti, pastor of Christ Methodist church, has returned from an interdenominational conference of Italian Protestants in the Boomer street tabernacle, New York City, where he was one of the speakers.

The conference was an outstanding event with delegates present from nearly every state of the union. Delegates were pastors engaged in Protestant Italian work.

All-day sessions were held October 29 and 30.

Governor Martin Ends Campaign

Charges Democratic High Command Driven Desperate By Signs Of Defeat

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Gov. Edward Martin ended his campaign for the U. S. Senate Saturday night in Pittsburgh with the declaration that Democratic state-wide candidates were making "false and reckless promises impossible of performance without looting or trebling state taxes."

"The Democratic high command has been driven desperate by the unmistakable signs of repudiation and defeat," the Republican nominee said.

"Then weak and flabby defense of the Washington carnival of controls and corruption has fallen on deaf ears. The American people have stood it long enough."

"In the closing days of this campaign the Democratic candidates have resorted to a campaign of slander and intimidation."

"Democrats evaded campaign issues, the governor charged and attempted to cover the alleged omission by 'inciting hatred and spreading slander.'"

"The closing days of this campaign are being taken for a new class of would-be pilots to be trained under the G. I. Bill of Rights. Private, commercial and instructor courses are being given. The courses run from 35 to 42 hours of flight time, at the end of which a license to fly is granted."

Already 60 pilots have received their licenses through the courses offered at the flight school.

German Currency Stabilization Plan Progress Is Slow

BERLIN, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Gen. Lucius D. Clay, deputy commander of the American zone of Germany, revealed today that very little progress has been made on the United States proposal for stabilization of German currency.

He added that he is "very much disturbed" by the lack of progress because he considers stabilization a vital factor for German economic recovery.

The American proposal has been placed before the Allied Control Council.

Other American military government sources believe it will be at least five to six months before a currency agreement can be reached by the four occupying powers.

Henry W. Welker Is Granted Discharge

Fourth Son Of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Welker Arrives Home From Military Duty

It was a happy occasion for Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Welker and family, of the Harbor road, when Henry W. Welker arrived home after receiving his honorable discharge from the U. S. army.

Mr. and Mrs. Welker had four sons serving in the armed forces during the war and all have received their honorable discharges and arrived home unharmed.

T-5 Henry Welker, U. S. army, for 18 months and served overseas for one year as mess sergeant in the Philippine Islands and Hawaii.

Sgt. Robert Welker, U. S. army, was in the service for three years and served in the European Theater as a tank driver for 16 months.

Sgt. Russell Welker, U. S. army, flight dispatcher and operational inspector, was in the service for four years with 20 months duty in China, India and Cairo, Egypt.

Master Technical Sgt. Fred E. Welker was the publicity sergeant for western Pennsylvania, Maryland and West Virginia from Guadalcanal to China. He was in active duty for 44 months overseas as a combat correspondent and battle broadcaster for the first division of the Marine Corps. He was in the service four years and two months.

Health Talks By DR. W. A. WOMER City Health Superintendent

CROWDING Communicable or catching diseases cause lots of trouble and discomfort. It seems that crowding has something to do with spread of these diseases.

During the war, people in Europe were crowded together and diseases were very prevalent.

Crowding increased the number of cases of scabies and impetigo and lice and other skin troubles.

People seem to need plenty of room at home or in school or in the work shop.

There are usually fewer cases of contagious disease in the summer time when people have more room for themselves and are not bunched up together quite so much.

Young people like to get together to have a good time. They are willing to take a chance on a few germs.

Hermits may be pretty healthy but who wants to be a hermit.

A Greek colony used today owes its name to iron. The archaic means "grassy." A little more than 2,000 years ago iron spits, or skewers, were used in Greece for money, and six of them were a handful. The name stuck, although the iron spits didn't.

Swear In New Cabinet In Greece

ATHENS, Nov. 4.—(INS)—King George II swore in a new cabinet composed of Populists and closely allied National Liberals today after Premier Constantin Tsalaris failed in his effort to create a more representative government.

However the new government was viewed as somewhat more moderate than the preceding one by the elimination of several ministers. A number of the ministers were carried over from the previous ROYALIST government. These included the ministers of defense, public order and labor.

BRITISH FORMING 'ISLAND FORTRESS' IN HOLY CITY WAR

JERUSALEM, Nov. 4.—(INS)—British authorities were erecting barricades in the center of Jerusalem today to create an "island fortress" for troops caught in the midst of a new surge of incidents in the Holy Land.

The road-blocks will cut off the busiest commercial section of the city. Authorities plan to mass trucks, troop defense and emergency equipment in this "island."

It will be similar to cutting a section of Broadway between Forty-Second and Forty-Seventh streets in New York City from traffic.

Only a single road will be left through the heart of Jerusalem, the center, passing the King David hotel has been cut off since the bombing of that building early last summer.

CHESTER—Steve Day four accidentally rode his tricycle into the side of a speeding Baltimore and Ohio Railroad train and escaped with only severe damage to his dignity.

Troop Shows Big Increase; Plan
Scouts Investiture; Leaders
Present Reports

Leaders of Boy Scout troop XI had their Green Bar council meeting in the council room of the Mahoning Methodist church on Sunday afternoon, with Scoutmaster Bill Bollinger in charge. Assistant Scoutmaster Philip DeAngelis led the devotionals.

Bill Bollinger, chairman of program committee, gave his monthly report on the status and activities of the troop since its organization. The troop has increased from nine members in June, the time of re-registration, to the present with 30 members. Bill Wetz, chairman of service committee, reported completion of renovation by scouts of seventh ward honor roll.

A contemplated community project is the stenciling of names of major streets on the curbs of the ward, subject to approval of city council. Plans were made for a training course for patrol leaders, commencing the week of November 10.

The troop committee meets this evening promptly at 7 in the church parlor. Plans for a revolving fund for the troop and duties of the committeemen will be discussed.

Thursday evening the investiture ceremony will begin at 7:30, open to the public. The troop meeting begins at 7.

The scoutmaster and his assistants attended the second session of scoutmasters training course conducted Friday evenings at Highland U. P. church, and were awarded certificates by Ralph Davis, district commissioner, for completion of fundamentals of scouting. Scoutmaster Bollinger and Assistant Wetz were selected as patrol leaders of the "Flaming Arrow" and "Beaver" patrols, respectively.

John Davis Class To Have Bowling Party

Members of the John Davis Bible class of the Mahoning Methodist church, assembled at the church, during weekend, and motored to the summer home of Dr. Mildred Rodgers, for their regular monthly meeting. There was a good attendance.

The committees in charge of arrangements and program was Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wetlich and Miss Ruth Sample.

Various games were the diversion of the evening.

A bowling party was planned within the next two weeks, about November 15. Marshmallows were toasted at a log fire.

The committee served a tasty luncheon.

Castleton Saturday

For the first time in eight years, classmates of the January '38 class gathered for their get-together in the form of a dinner-dance, Saturday evening, with upward of 95 persons in attendance.

Husband, wives, and friends of the members attended, and the event got underway with a full house turkey dinner, served at 6:30 o'clock, in the ballroom of The Castleton.

A full centerpieces, centered the speaker's table, and tall red candles flanked either side. Greens and other fall flowers centered each table, and the meal was enjoyed by candlelight. The invocation was given by Fred Allen.

Edward Pouda, vice-president of the class, capably presided as master of ceremonies, and behalf of the committee, extended a welcome to the entire class, their associates.

An introductory speech was given by Mrs. Pauline Litch Elliott, and she extended greetings to those attending. Each class member, as part of the regular class members, expressed her hope that an enjoyable evening would be had by all.

Mrs. Nancy Hall Roney reminisced with the class and in up-to-date resume of the past "Eight Years."

✓ STOMACH GAS
✓ SOUR FOOD TASTE
✓ ACID INDIGESTION

Do you feel bloated and miserable after every meal? Taste sour, bitter food? If so, here is how you may get blessed relief from this nervous distress.

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with over-doses of soda and other alkalis to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Good Lighting

... the Key to Comfort and Relaxation!

After a trying day there are just two things you want and need... comfort and relaxation. And proper lighting is a big factor in giving you what you want. It's really so simple to achieve. Follow a few simple rules, and presto, the thing is done.

Keep them Clean!

For light efficiency keep the bulbs, shades and diffusion bowls clean.

Follow these Rules!

A—Large enough bulbs—no less than 100 watts for studying.

B—Lamps located near work—so that light comes over shoulder.

C—Bulbs well-shaded to prevent glare—diffusion bowls and light-lined shades provide the most protection and greatest efficiency.

The correct light means so much in the proper enjoyment of the home.

Long Day Ahead At Court House

Election Day Means Prolonged Stay On Job For Some Of County Officials

OTHER NEWS OF COURT HOUSE

Comes Tuesday, November 5, and a lot of folks on court house hill have a long day in front of them. A day that will end only when the last ballot box has been returned and the election officials paid off.

Some of the folks picked for an all night job are County Treasurer Frank W. Hill and part of his force who will have to pay the election boards; Chief Clerk to the County Commissioners William A. Eakin, who has to check the returns as they come in; A. Lewis Conn, chief clerk to the permanent registration bureau; the county registration board; County Controller Andrew Dodds, who has to verify all expenditures, and of course a large corps of clerical help that will aid in the work.

As the returns are completed in the election districts, the board seals the ballot boxes and sends them immediately to the court house. In the present election the ballot is short, a preponderance of straight party ballots is expected, which should mean an early count.

Legion Chairman Charges Bungling In Housing Program

Committee Head Says Federal Policy Hindering Housing Plans For Veterans

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Richard C. Cadwallader, chairman of an American Legion committee investigating the veterans housing program, charged today that government policy is hindering the construction of rental housing for veterans.

Cadwallader's seven-man committee is in Washington to conduct a court of inquiry, starting today, at which government officials and others are being questioned on the cause and cure of the housing shortage.

Cadwallader told International News Service before today's session that preliminary investigation has convinced him "government financial techniques are frightening risk capital from the rental construction field." He added:

"Even some government men have admitted to me that the Federal Housing Administration, Reconstruction Finance Corporation, the Federal Home Loan bank and other agencies have failed to coordinate in an effort to encourage the building of housing for veterans who want to rent."

Important Obstacle
Cadwallader said he considers the dearth of rental construction to be the most important obstacle to an adequate veterans housing program. He declared:

"The overwhelming majority of veterans want to rent, but they are being forced to buy if they are lucky enough to get a chance at a home at all. And when they buy they get stuck, because prices are far too high."

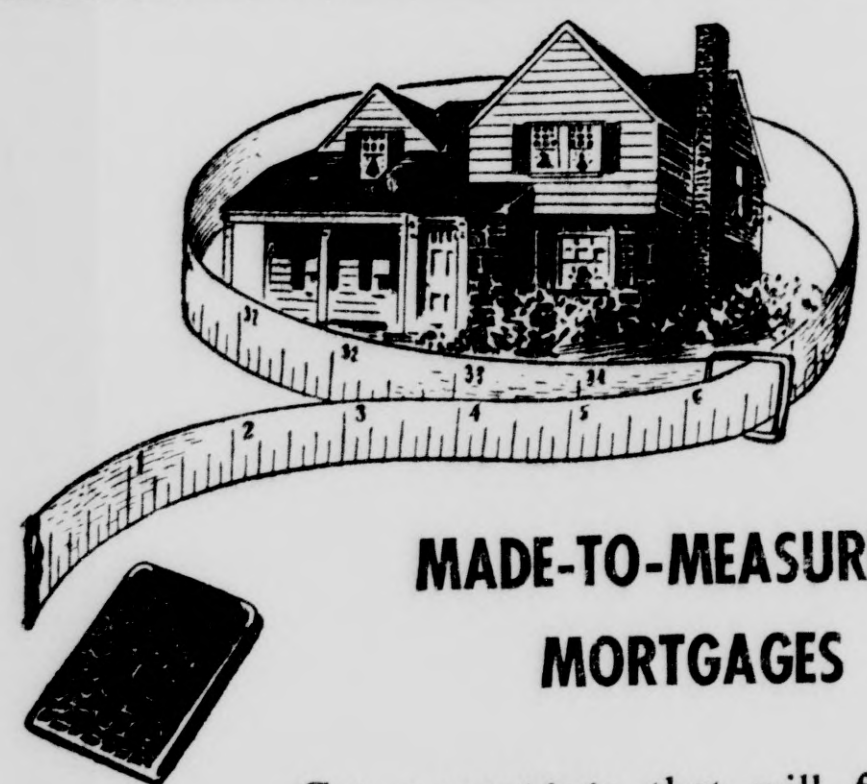

The committee chairman, a Baton Rouge, La., attorney, said the information collected at the current hearing, plus grass roots back-ground gathered by individual committee members during a three-week tour of the country will be used to formulate a model housing program.

This program will be presented to the Legion's national executive committee at Indianapolis on Nov. 21. If approved, it will be offered to the government with the full backing of the powerful organization.

Before the hearings close Friday afternoon, the committee will have heard testimony by every government agency remotely connected with housing and Housing Expediter Wilson Wyatt himself.

Hope For Early End Of TWA Pilots Now

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—(INS)—An early end to the strike of 1,400 AFL pilots against Trans-World Airlines was seen today as Mediation Board Chairman Frank P. Douglass called company and union heads in for further conferences.

Douglass said he hoped a formula for arbitration acceptable to both sides would be reached by today. David L. Behncke, president of the AFL Airline Pilots Association, and Jack Frye, TWA president, had been found. He added that any terms would include resumption of operations during arbitration.

Behncke went to Chicago over the week-end to confer with other officials of his union. There was no inkling as to the subject of his discussions.

THREE MEN HURT IN EAST HICKORY AUTO COLLISION

WARREN, Pa., Nov. 4.—(INS)—Three men were in the hospital today as a result of injuries sustained in an automobile accident near East Hickory yesterday.

Hospital attaches listed the injured as Edward Gesin, 22; Frank Morrison, 18, and Roarl Rasequist, 22, all of Tidiolet.

Police said the automobile, driven by Gesin struck a culvert and overturned after swerving around another car driven by Byron Anderson of East Hickory.

URGE CHILD CARE BE UNDER DIRECT CONTROL OF STATE

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Direct supervision by the Commonwealth was urged today for all child-caring institutions in Pennsylvania.

The recommendation was made in a report prepared for the State Legislature by a group headed by Dr. Arnold E. Look, president of Ellis College, Newtown Square.

Dr. Look asserted that "recent widely publicized abuses cry loudly for legislative remedy." He added that "the post-war period will probably produce more 'commercial' rackets in child care."

Nevada Woman Awaits Sentence

Bridget Waters Found Guilty Of Involuntary Manslaughter After Jury Trial

LAS VEGAS, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Bridget Waters, conceding that "I've been very fortunate," expressed satisfaction today with the jury verdict which found that her slaying of her estranged American husband was involuntary manslaughter.

The Irish girl, out of jail on $5,000 bail, is at liberty for the first time since she killed Frank K. Waters with a shot through the heart last Labor Day.

Brushing aside a defense counsel notice of an appeal for a new trial, Mrs. Waters said:

"I think I had a very fair trial—but that is the American way, isn't it? Everyone has been fine to me."

Sentence Wednesday

The young woman is to return to court Wednesday for sentencing by Judge A. S. Henderson. Nevada law allows him a wide range of discretion in passing sentence.

He may rule that her offense was a felony and sentence her to a one-to-five year term in the state penitentiary.

Or he may find that it was a misdemeanor. The penalty for that is a fine of $1,000, a year in jail or both.

With a misdemeanor, the sentence may be suspended. Hence, it is possible for Mrs. Waters to go free.

The involuntary manslaughter verdict was returned by a jury composed of eight men and four women. They reached their decision at 11:35 a. m. yesterday after considering the case since 4:32 p. m. Saturday.

HEY KIDDIES!
SANTA COMING TO PITTSBURGH SOON

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Here's some must reading for all youngsters who have been misbehaving lately.

Santa Clause is coming to Pittsburgh and probably will visit other western Pennsylvania cities on Nov. 16.

The jolly fellow announced that he will fly from the North Pole to take in a Christmas parade.

The chief state in the production of wood pulp in the U. S. is Washington, second is Maine.

Change Name Of Farm Loan Office

Farm Security Administration Is Changed To Farmers Home Administration By Congress

It was announced by Clair E. George of Beaver Falls, supervisor, that the local Farm Security Administration office is now under a new name and operates with a new program of loans and services to farmers of Lawrence and Beaver counties.

The name has been changed to Farmers Home Administration by recent act of Congress, and will operate under that name.

The new program will closely follow the ten-year-old Farm Security program of loans and supervision for farmers who have difficulty locating satisfactory credit through standard credit channels.

The Farm Security, operating loans for feed, seed, fertilizer, tools, livestock, and other non-real estate expenses, will be replaced by FHA operating loans at the same rates, terms, and interest.

Farm Ownership loans will continue as heretofore, but with the interest rate raised from three to three and one-half per cent interest. These loans are 40-year credits for outright purchase and repair of family type farms. The maximum loan to be made in Beaver and Lawrence counties has been increased to $9,000 under the terms of new legislation.

The practice of saluting a ship's quarter-deck is attributed to the old Roman custom of paying respect and obedience to pagan shrines carried on board.

Beware Coughs Following Flu

After the flu is over and gone, the cough that follows may develop into chronic bronchitis if neglected. Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expectorate phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

State College Business Survey For State Areas

New Castle District Among Those Showing Big Gain During September

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Nov. 4.—General business in the leading areas of Pennsylvania fell two per cent from August to September but gained 19 per cent over a year ago, the monthly survey of the Pennsylvania State college revealed today.

Bank deposits, postal receipts, life insurance sales, and department store sales all showed a decline from the preceding month. Faculty payrolls showed improvement.

New records for September were made by bank deposits, telephones in service, department store sales and postal receipts. Building contracts were the best since 1942.

Life insurance sales were the greatest for the month in over a decade, no figures being available for earlier than 1936. Building permits in leading cities were the largest since 1941.

Car Sales Good

New car and truck sales were the best for the month for any year since before 1940, no bureau data going back to earlier years. However, sales were still far below the demand and the productive possibilities of the industry.

Although factory employment, payrolls and hours were above a year ago, employment and hours were otherwise the lowest since 1940 and payrolls were the lowest since 1942.

Retail trade continued excellent with sales making a new September record and running more than one-third above last year. Part of the gain was credited to the rise in prices, but retail stocks were the largest for the month in any recent year and were 138 per cent above the pre-war average.

The cost of living also continued to jump with mid-September, the latest data available, showing all living costs to be 45 per cent above the 1935-1939 average and food costs up nearly 73 per cent.

Only Chester, with a loss of 12 per cent, showed a decrease over September, 1945.

Percentage of gain in other industrial areas from September 1945 to September 1946 were: Allentown 35, Altoona 35, Bethlehem 23, Easton 31, Erie 22, Harrisburg 23, Johnstown 31, Lancaster 28, New Castle 38, Oil City 9, Philadelphia 14, Pittsburgh 21, Reading 31, Sharon 33, Scranton 4, Wilkes-Barre 21, Williamsport 27 and York 27.

Capitol Reporters Expect Martin And Duff To Be Elected

HARRISBURG, Nov. 4.—Political writers who cover the State Capitol believe unanimously that Gov. Edward Martin and Attorney General James H. Duff, Republican candidates for U. S. Senate and Governor, respectively, will win in next Tuesday's election.

A poll of 12 reporters today showed that predictions of victory for Mr. Martin range from majorities of 175,000 to 413,000 and for Mr. Duff from 130,000 to 393,000. The average forecast of Mr. Martin's majority was 299,927 and Mrs. Duff's 261,789.

The consensus was that Mr. Duff will trail Mr. Martin by 38,138 votes.

The reporters who participated in the poll represent newspapers from all parts of the state. They are of various political complexions. Their estimates were not made as matter of policy, but rather were based on personal beliefs of what the result next Tuesday will be.

Huge Supplies Of Stamps Asked For Yule Business

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—The post office department is making preparations for one of the heaviest Christmas businesses in its history. Since Sept. 1 requisitions from the many thousands of postmasters throughout the country have reached the department for huge supplies of postage stamps of various denominations to take care of holiday demand.

Up to the end of October a total of 3,174,000,000 postage stamps of the one-cent and three-cent denominations have been dispatched from the Bureau of Engraving and Printing to the nation's larger post offices.

In addition, some 700,000,000 five-cent airmail stamps already are in the hands of postmasters and it is estimated that this quantity will have to be increased by the first week in December.

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Hollywood really is taking to the air these days. The latest is the unique play they have at universal-international to shoot the whole broad scope of the forest fire for "The Egg And I".

The indoor set of the chicken ranch which is better perfect to the real one, is being duplicated on the studio back lot.

With all this money being spent, the studio wants to make certain they'll have sensational shots of the fire.

Skelton Markets Game

Red Skelton has marketed a game. As you'd expect, it's called "I Dood It".

Your reporter saw Red and seven other gents playing it at M-G-M. Each player is furnished with a celluloid mouse on the end of a string. They sit in a circle with the mice in the center, he has a box-like contraption used as a trap, and a pair of dice. He throws the dice until he rolls a pair. At this moment he shouts "I Dood It" and slams the trap down to try to catch as many mice as possible. The players whose mice he traps pay him and he pays the ones who pull their mice out in time.

The game your reporter saw wasn't for big money. When it was over, one of the players turned to Red and said:

"You owe me three cents."

Casino Games Appeal

On the subject of games, John Hodiak and Wendel Corey have been playing casino every day for weeks in between takes of Paramount's "Desert Town".

They were hard at it in John's dressing room when your reporter walked by.

"I'll bet we've played a thousand games since this picture started," John said.

Frank Sinatra is trying to arrange his very full 1947 schedule so he can get his first vacation since 1940.

"I think I'm entitled to a month, and a half off with nothing to worry about," Frank said. "I haven't had a real vacation in six years. The last one was the time I got two weeks in New Jersey. Since then, I've only been able to get three or four days at a time."

Frank talked it was winding up "It Happened In Brooklyn" for M-G-M, his first picture in more than two years.

Farm Wages Now At All-Time High

HARRISBURG, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Farm wages have established an all time high of $5.40 a day for laborers working without board, the Department of Agriculture reported today following a federal-state survey.

Daily wages for farm hands, the department added, jumped 80 cents a day in the last year. Workers receiving board earn approximately $77 a month, an increase of $4.50 since July 1, 1946.

The department pointed out that farm costs were expected to continue to rise because "all wages increase result from the higher rates paid by industry, the scarcity of workers and the necessity for payment of higher rates for fruit, potato, corn and vegetable harvesting this fall."

The survey revealed that there were 679 foreign workers employed on Pennsylvania farms as of September 27. About 100 World War II veterans were placed on farms as workers or tenants during August, the department added.

REDUCE ACCIDENTS

CLEVELAND—(INS)—High school driver training has reduced accidents one-half among some 2,000 youths given instruction in Cleveland and the American Public Works Association reported recently.

This conclusion was based on an analysis of accident and conviction records of 1,889 students who received driver training compared to records of 1,372 students who received no training. The records were analyzed two years after licenses were issued for all students involved.

Yule Trees Will Carry Message

BEND, Ore., Nov. 4.—The more than 10,000 Christmas trees already cut from the Deschutes National Forest for holiday markets are carrying a short note to conservation warriors.

It reads: "This tree brings a Christmas message from the great outdoors. Its cutting was not destructive, but gave needed room for neighboring trees to grow faster and better."

The actors no longer let their beards and hair grow for the play, the schedule for which was broken only three times in some 300 years.

Passion Play Not To Be Held In '47

OBERAMMERGAU, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Oberammergau's world-famous passion play, will not be held next year.

Authorities announced this, adding that there is a definite lack of accommodations for the 400,000 persons who annually attend the solemn re-enactment of the crucifixion.

Other unofficial quarters said that Otto Haser, selected to play Christ, still is a prisoner of war of Russia, and Alois Lang, who once played the same role, is barred due to his Nazi leanings.

The actors no longer let their beards and hair grow for the play, the schedule for which was broken only three times in some 300 years.

Early Booster
For U.N. Reveals Disappointment

By FRANK R. ALLEN
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—The author of the pre-UN Fulbright Resolution calling for a world organization said today he is "disappointed" over Russian truculence.

Sen. Fulbright (D- Ark., one of the earliest advocates of such a world agency as the United Nations, called Russia "politically immature" and declared that "she responds only to force, which we must maintain."

Still Has Faith
The Arkansas senator, who introduced as a House member in 1943 a resolution for setting up international peace machinery, said he still has faith in UN success, but declared that "Russian unreasonableness makes it a long, hard road."
Asserting that Russia is more difficult to deal with than he had expected, Fulbright said:
"I am not ready to give up hope that UN will work."
"But it is very disappointing to see how truculent Russia is, and her unjustified assertions imputing to us motives of expansion and imperialism."

"For Russia to come along and say we are imperialistic is nonsense." The Arkansas internationalist pointed to Russia as the one nation which has expanded and occupied new territory in the war, and added:

To Dominate World?
"Russia appears to have ambitions to dominate the world if she can." Fulbright said he sees a strong U.S. army and navy, plus time of perhaps 15 or 20 years, and eventually "reasonable people" in power in Russia as the answer to the problem of getting friendly relations with the Soviet. He said:
"If we can keep Russia from getting too big and upsetting the balance of power in the world over a period of time—perhaps 15 or 20 years—long with such things as exchange of students and interchange of knowledge with other countries, and an increase of literacy in Russia there is some hope of reasonable people coming to power in the Soviet."

Politically Immature
Labeling Russia as "politically immature," Fulbright said:
"Russia only understands strength, and responds only to force. While we wait for her to grow up politically, we must maintain a strong army and navy—much as I hate to spend money for a big military establishment—and follow a policy of patience."

The only alternative to maintaining military strength for the present, Fulbright declared, would be "to become the seventeenth republic of the Union to Socialist Soviet Republics."
The Arkansas Democrat saw three factors as having contributed to encourage Russia's "truculence":
1. Too rapid demobilization of the armed services.
2. The Henry Wallace break with the administration.
3. The political campaigns and the Republican predictions that they will win one or both houses of Congress.

Government Of Japan Presents Democracy Talk
TOKYO, Nov. 4.—(INS)—The Japanese government gave the people of the occupied nation a "pep" talk on democracy today and outlined a program designed to "popularize" the newly promulgated constitution.

The war-renounced constitution was promulgated officially by Emperor Hirohito in well-attended ceremonies Sunday.
The government's announcement called upon the people to foster a "realization of democracy" on the basis of the new document which becomes effective in six months.
The announcement pointed out that the constitution's spirit is not a thing to be handed out to the people by the government and added:
"The people must learn for themselves and digest it by themselves."

The government laid out for the consideration of the people plans for a variety of reforms based on the new constitution and promised improvement in the educational system and in government administration as well as rehabilitation of war-ravaged areas, protection of free enterprise and improvement in agricultural techniques.

Army Recruits Can Pick Their Division
Recruiter Thorn Announces That Men Can Now Choose Outfit They Wish To Join
Effective November 1, individuals enlisting in the United States Regular Army for a period of three years will be permitted to enlist for certain divisions currently stationed in the Pacific theater. It is announced by CW R. S. Thorn, commanding officer of the New Castle recruiting station.

The following divisions are named: the First Cavalry Division and the Sixth, Seventh, 24th and 25th Infantry Divisions. In the same category individuals may enlist for the 11th Air Borne Division, which is stationed in the Pacific theater, and the 82nd Air Borne Division, currently stationed in the zone of the interior.

LARGE ECONOMY SIZE
ROCK HILL, S. C.—(INS)—James G. Johnson, leading restaurant man of York, S. C., wasn't fazed a bit when he was asked to prepare a birthday dinner for a circus performer recently.
Johnson's dinner guest was Frieda, a 46-year-old elephant trouper of the big top.

British Railways claims that the chances of a passenger being killed last year in a train accident on their lines was only one in 150,000,000.
